Details: This latest album Partisan is dedicated to the memory of 'The Partisans of Krushevo' and as the song lyrics suggest, the Christian, the Muslim, The Communist, the Jew', remembers all those who gave there lives fighting fascism in Bulgaria during WW2. The song tells the story of a collective of rural farmers betrayed by pro-nazi traitors and subsequently executed - The youngest of the 11 villagers whom were shot being just 15 years of age. 'The Best Picture' is an satirical account of an argument between two band members 'classically trained violinist' and 'self-taught guitarist.' The later being the 'musical composer' was said to have 'merely stretched the canvas' whilst the violinist had 'painted the picture.' Obviously Jonathan left the band in protest! 'L'Affaire Dominicie' tells the true story of 'Sir Jack, Lady Anne and Elizabeth Drummond' who were brutally murdered whilst camping in the South of France during 1952. Shot and beaten to death by the peasant farmer of 74 years, Gaston Dominicie' who escaped the guillotine and eventually life in prison on 'compassionate grounds.' 'I Hear Angels' is a song written 'for David G', a dear friend, greatly missed. What have people said so far? 'I bet lots of people say that but you've got an amazing voice, really intense - wow!' AND 'your music is inspired,' it was "simple and sincere - Fresh magic in a choking, dusty world" Audience feedback - Cowling House Concerts 'Jonathan is a thoughtful and intelligent lyric writer and a superb musician. His voice ranges from Cat Stevenesque right through to smoky blues.' Richard Hollis. The Unofficial Steeleye Span Website 'Jonathan who has real talent has identified the crimes that are committed in our name. The songs are beautiful and the cause a worthy one' Tony Benn. British Politician, Author Anti-War Activist. 'Visited your website, downloaded the album (Debut - The Collection) and liked what I heard very much. I've put a little plug for it onto The Folk Corporation's forum.' Barry talkawhile/' 'Jonathan comes from a very talented family and talented he is!' The Country Star Page 'He has a fabulous voice, really rich and resonant and full of emotion, very distinctive.' State Of Undress. 'You sound like the UK Vissotzky - accentuating on messages and lyrics, not only the music which is good.'
