

Mp3 Lociano - The One

A mix between the charisma and wit of Jay-Z and emotion and drive of DMX. 7 MP3 Songs HIP HOP/RAP: Rap, HIP HOP/RAP: East Coast Details: Who I Am I began igniting ball point pens directly after having seen the movie Krush Groove. The movie in it's entirety was a life guiding inspiration. I grew up on the streets of Julian D Steele projects - aka Shaughnessy. The song "Home Sweet Home" is a dedication to Shaughnessy. I mean, every line, every word, every metaphor - is Shaughnessy. I don't think DaVinci could have painted a more clear/concise picture. The next time you listen to "Home Sweet Home", close your eyes - it's exactly how I describe it. Raw, comforting, disturbing, troubled, blessed, all that.. The Hood - the PJ's at it's worst and finest. The wife, to this day says that's the tightest shit I got. She can see it just as I wrote it. Same with "Blue Collar Baller". From the Nissan Sentra to wearing the same shit 2 and 3 days in row. Love it or hate it - it's who I am. To Lead I took what I learned in the streets and applied it to everyday living dog. I tried not to fall into the same traps some of my boys were falling into. Leaders don't follow - they lead - that's my mantra. Has been - always will be. Although, I was almost a spittin image of what I didn't want to be more than a few times in my life. Dealing, hanging in the alley all times of the day/night - that'll git you there quick. You gotta know though - not only was some illegal shit goin on in the alley, but it was the central gathering point for the hood's finest. Dealers, hustlers, all congregated in the alley. So did 5.0. They'd come thru the spot so often we knew their shift - by officer. That was how the block stayed a gold mine - you can be ghost when you know they were coming. On the flip, folks knew the occasional raid would pop-off, so you had to keep your eye's peeled. But regardless, the alley was always filled to the gills. An Event My music is me to a T. Period. Alot of mc's will tell you they have the hottest shit out there, or they do things different - when in fact, they sound just like the industry standard. Same format, same style, same goals. So whack. Be who you are man - fail that way. Don't fail at being somebody else. I don't try to be different - I just am. That's real talk. It's good and bad though. Good cause I know Hip-Hop is not just one sound and the true fans of the genre will recognize and praise mine. But bad because going against the grain is harder today than it was a decade ago. But regardless, you gotta make it an event when you sit down to listen to this EP.. The day you get my cd, don't listen to the radio, don't play no other music for the entire day. Get ya fam together and whip around the city bangin it. I gaurantee it's nothin you ever heard before in your life. The sound is different - the flow is different. That's when you'll realize....This aint Hip-Hop. This aint Rap. This is something else.
