Details: Old Sparky is the brainchild of F43!0 (keyboards and sequencers), who started creating songs in the mid-nineties, and was initially meant to remain a solo project. Over the course of the years, several different musicians helped him shape very characteristic electronic sounds, with a wide range of varying and challenging influences. The project's discography is comprising of 3 previous releases which all featured different line-ups. Three years after the band's latest output, F43!0 is back to the formulaic solo structure. LIGHT HOUSE is the brand-new, all- instrumental album, which was conceived in about 2 years and was recorded with the aid of both digital and analog instrumentation.
