Building Big Email Lists PERSONAL USE RIGHTS ONLY! If you own an online business or are hoping to start one soon, you probably already know that you need an email list. Whats unfortunate is that many people who start web businesses (or brick and mortar businesses for that matter) fail and many of those failures could be avoided if they just had an email list to promote to! Youve probably seen all of the hype about products that promise to help you build a massive list overnight. Can you REALLY build a list overnight? No. Can you get a great start if you have the right information that shows you exactly which steps to take? YES, No doubt! All it takes is a little bit of action on your part following the simple steps that I am going to teach you. The first thing we need go to over is a lingering thought some people have... Some people (maybe even you) may be thinking that they really dont need an e-mail list, or even a website if you have a local offline business. You may be thinking that the local tire shop or the local taco shack doesnt need a web site, right? Thats not an uncommon thought. To your surprise, ANY business can hugely benefit from building an e-mail list. So how can a tire shop benefit, exactly? On the surface, a tire shop may not look like the most likely of candidates when it comes to using email for business profits but lets look a little deeper. Lets say that a tire shop does well all year with constant sales that keep the business thriving throughout the year except for the month of June. For some reason, June slows way down, foot traffic within the store slows down and sales take an overall nose dive. Bad news right? This is where having an e-mail list comes in. If this tire shop had an e-mail list of targeted prospects, past visitors to the store and past customers they could simply shoot out a quick message offering a freebie to get people in the store. Something like Free Rotation, Balance & Pressure Check Just For Coming In. Do you think that would get some people into the store? You bet it would! How YOU Can Generate your Own Highly targeted & Massively Responsive email list starting today... Three Gigantic Benefits Of Having A Big email List! Its obvious that you absolutely need an e-mail list if you want to keep your business steadily making money. Here are three of the biggest benefits of having an e-mail list...

- 1) Making More Money From Past Customers - Lets face it, the dream in business is that once a customer buys from us, they will come back to buy more. Sadly, this is not what actually happens the majority of the time. With an e-mail list, you can bring old customers back in by contacting them with a quick e-mail!
- 2) Turning Leads Into Cash Paying Customers - With an e-mail list you will be able to contact people that may have come into your store or made contact with you in some way. This puts your business in front of this person who initially showed interest in doing business with you so that when they are ready to buy, they immediately think of you.
- 3) Turning Slow Sales Days Into Record Breaking Sales Days - When you have an e-mail list of past customers and leads that you can follow up with, slow days are a thing of the past. Simply shoot out an e-mail with an offer and watch the sales come in. These are just a few of the benefits of having an e-mail list that you can communicate with on a regular basis and is by no means an all inclusive list.

There are literally hundreds of direct and indirect benefits to having an e-mail list, all of which will help you make more money and get through tough economic times. Another way to think having an e-mail list is that its... The Closest Thing To Actually Being Able To generate Cash On Demand... When you have a database of people that you can contact at will and share your business message with, you have extreme power. The power that you have is the ability to get people to your web site, or into your store, or to call you on the phone. Doing this exposes people to your product and will lead to an increase in business.

Going back to the tire shop example - can you imagine how cool it would be if you turned a slow day into a busy, profitable day with one e-mail? The first time you do that, you will realize that you have given yourself an extreme edge in doing business. Does your competition have an e-mail list? Probably not.

When your competition is having slow days and spending a fortune on additional advertising on TV, the news paper, pay per click, and other advertising outlets, you will be sending out simple e-mails to increase business. Your competition will always be thinking Why is his (or her) business always so busy on days when mine is completely dead?
