ELECTRONIC: Pop Crossover, POP: with Electronic Production Details: Condo Life is the new album from Canada's #1 nationally-charting pop electronica band, Fidgital. Condo Life takes the Fidgital sound further - with more vocals, more horns, more hooks, more emotion than ever before. The album features some of Vancouver's top jazz ethnic musicians, with more pop song writing sing-along choruses. Fidgital is producer Keith Gillard vocalist Ryan Slemko. Previously known for his '90's pop project Tinmen, Keith has worked in music production for many years, writing producing tracks for many different artists, including Ryan's '90's synthpop project, Front Centre. Condo Life is very much about life in Canada, more specifically Vancouver. Scattered throughout the album are interviews with people who have come to Canada from around the world, speaking about the Canadian experience in their native languages. "This is a concept album, sprung out of a desire to do something other than house," says Keith. "I love house - but there are a million house acts. So... what would condo music sound like? What we ended up with was this - a collection of tunes to wake up your neighbours!" Fidgital's debut album "Spyglass" reached #1 on Chart Magazine's national Top 10 electronica albums. The follow-up EP, "hit&run", hit #2 across Canada. Fidgital music has been heard on the soundtracks to prime-time ABC FOX television programs, in the sky as part of Air Canada's in-flight entertainment, by enthusiastic dancing fans at their many live concerts. Fidgital has also remixed such well-known artists as Madonna Coldcut. Go visit fidgitalfor free free music downloads, videos, photos streaming Fidgital DJ sets.
