Details: Jsean: From an early age he was surrounded by today--s talented artists, During his early teens began testing his creativity and discovered he had natural talent for it. He became known for performing. A move to Buffalo New York followed, with Jsean searching for ways to change his future outlook. However, moving to New York offered no alternative to the street hustlin-- he had grown up with, and so the journey continued onto Miami. It was here that Jsean came across an influential figure that steered him towards --kosher? business opportunities. With this new found sensibility he succeeded in getting a placement within a telesales company, and so began his climb into telesales management. * Looking for better opportunities within the industry, Jsean moved to England and became the established businessman he had set out to be. Despite this great achievement Jsean set himself a new aim of becoming known as a performer as he had began in his early teens. * Now, as a singer/song writer Jsean has finish material independent release. He is currently looking for management and collaborations with producers and artists. Singer songwriter composer, Jsean was born with an extremely style. Jsean has performed in and around london. Influenced by world rythem grooves and a modem mix, of original sounds selves made mix. The man him selves his pure original. for more info:[Myspace.com/jsean06]
