Details: BIOGRAPHY Envision a city plagued by poverty, consumed with corruption, held hostage by a government that hides the root of it all. Behold DC The Home Of The Forgotten also known as Chocolate City a place that the music industry has over looked for decades, a place where artist get blackballed and never get the chance to shine, until now, behold Martyr.hailing out of that Pistol-Grip-County(right outside of DC) Martyr is a conglomerate of five soldiers with different styles that represent the remedy necessary to save hip-hop. Group members include, Boots, X/O, S.A, Say'mo, and Big Sool. Their one and only mission is to solidify themselves as a premier force in the music industry. They plan on doing this by continuing to make music that all ages can relate to. From the streets to the club Martyr provides the heat necessary to keep your head nodding while at the same time providing lyrics that are easy to digest and that will keep you craving for more. Their music possesses that rare ability to move both the underground and the mainstream, a quality that has been on display ever since the group formed back in the late 90's. They are among the elite in the music industry and have collaborated and preformed with some of hip-hops hottest entertainers, such as KRS-ONE, Yukmouth, NAS, Mobb Deep, UGK, Raheem DeVaughn, and several others. We All In Martyr's forthcoming album, continues the groups flawless independent underground run. It picks up where Strictly 4 Da Streets Vol. 3 left off. The album contains 20 menacing tracks, each backed by the bone-crushing, pulse-pounding production of in-house producers Bling of "4poundproductions and Kool-Aid of Juice Box productions. The album features the hit singles Cant Stop Hustling feat: Yukmouth. Weight Watchers and club banger How We Dofeat: B.
