It still is a very popular album years after it's release as it is just great music, perfectly performed. The title of that album is, "The Music of Andrew Lloyd Webber," and it is still available on cdbaby.com As David was the keyboardist for several of the Andrew Lloyd Webber show in New York and Los Angeles (Phantom of the Opera and others) it only made sense to have him record the songs instrumentally and it did resonate broadly with the public, turning David Raintree into a sensation overnight. His style is a unique combination of classical training on piano with a love of popular music of today. Now, with his first release of Christmas music, "TOGETHER FOR CHRISTMAS," David continues his sensitive, rich treatment of some of the classic songs of Christmas. For the cover of this album, David teamed up with Marty Bell, a very successful fine artist specializing in paintings as you see on the cover of this album which captures the feeling of Christmas in winter perfectly. This album also featuring Dan Jacobs on flute and Chuck Jacobs on bass and is one Christmas album featuring pianist, David Raintree, that is really a "must-have" for any holiday event. Produced by Dan Jacobs and Chuck Jacobs for Simplicity Records. Worldwide distribution and marketing by Metro Records, Inc.
