Cornell Kinderknecht is a multi-instrumentalist performer, recording artist, and teacher. He is passionate about the study and practice of how music, in many forms, may be used in the processes of healing, personal growth, and positive change. His mastery of flutes from cultures around the world combined with his sensitivity uplifts the soul and soothes the heart and mind. The power of music as a medium for enjoyment, change, or meditation always amazes me. Learn more about Cornell and his music at cornellk.com Jodi Roberts is a sound healing catalyst for transformation, ceremonial concert musician, and recording artist using the sound of Tibetan bowls and wind gongs to weave meditative, ceremonial experiences of peace, love, joy and beauty. She is a cultural anthropologist trained in cross-cultural Native American ceremony and healing, spiritual counseling, energy healing, Zen meditation and Tibetan sound healing. She has 20 years of experience and training in mindfulness and meditation techniques for stress reduction and creation of clear choices and actions based on those choices. SacredInspiration.com Bill Protzmann is the storytelling virtuoso pianist who shows people how to powerfully transform their emotions through music for audiences who desire authenticity, positive change, and spiritual awakening in an era when people long for self-awareness and relevance. "Working with Jodi and Cornell to create Equilibrium extends what I do into the realm of physical movement. Co-creating spontaneous awareness with dancers through this music has been transformative for me. BillProtzmann.com
