The first movement represents GABRIEL (God Is My Strength). He is best known for bringing important announcements to mankind. He is referred to as the voice of God. Because of this, he is symbolized by the trumpet, which represents God's voice. He is represented by the colors silver and white. The second movement is RAPHAEL (Shining One Who Heals). He is God's Warrior who leads the Celestial Army, and the ruler of the Seventh Heaven. In art he is depicted as muscular, youthful, handsome, and is usually suited in armor. The bible tells us that Michael and his army defeated Satan and his angels in the war in Heaven, throwing them out of Heaven and down to the earth. Michael is the Prince of Light battling against the sons of darkness. Michael is represented by the colors gold, yellow, and rose red. Symphony No 5 is The Peace Symphony.

There is an urgent need for the restoration of serenity, peace, joy, and affirmation of spirit. Each movement represents one of these qualities. Symphony No. 6 is The Spring Symphony. With clear, classical forms, each movement reflects various aspects of springtime: awakening spirit, quiet beauty, youthful playfulness and developing joy.
