Francis Brabazon was an Australian poet who lived in India. Karen sings his English poetry to classical ragas, Gaelic aires, and gypsy melodies. The ghazal form has not existed in English before for love songs to the Beloved. 11 MP3 Songs WORLD: World Traditions, WORLD: Celtic Details: Karen Lynn Sterkin presents traditional Celtic aires, international multi-cultural folk songs, bhajans, ghazals, devotional songs, Sufi poetry, thumri and Indian light classical in English. About Meherkaren Sings (meherkaren.com) Spiritual music is the universal language of love that can unite people's hearts. When cultures meet and barriers breakdown, innocents suffer while opponents fight for a misunderstanding of God. To bring down the unity of God's love for all His children in creation, devotional music serves to bring a new understanding of cultures for world peace faster than words because music reaches heart and soul. Divine music by-passes the intellect-ego differences of gender, caste, language, religion, nationality, or creed. People dance in joy when they hear saints and masters passionate lyrics in devotion to God with lovely melodies and rhythms. The exchange of love between hearts gives such bliss and joy that fosters peace faster than any other form of communication. To bring down love and joy of the Divine in devotional songs to a Western English-speaking audience and give more exposure to the great saints and masters: Meher Baba, Saints Mira, Kabir, Tulsidas, Tsoordas, the Sufi poets (Hafiz, Rumi, Ghalib), Tibetan, Middle Eastern, Persian, and others. Songs from international spiritual traditions: Ghazal, Bhajan, Khayal bandish, Sufi Quawalli, French, Irish, Middle Eastern, Indian, Russian, Pakistani, Persian, Australian and Gaelic presented in English.
