Nowadays, when 17-year old Rachel picks up the mike, you understand why people are starting to take notice. Born into a middle class family on the outskirts of Atlanta, Rachel knew right away where she wanted to be - ON STAGE. Rachel had all the same dreams that every kid has: success, fame and stardom. But what sets Rachel apart is her desire to do whatever it takes to make that dream come true. And, apparently, it is paying off!! Rachel also has an impressive resume. Just recently, she performed for enthusiastic crowds at the nationally recognized 500 Songs for Kids, Disneys High School Musical promotion at Stonecrest Mall, the American Cancer Societys Gwinnett County Relay for Life (one of the largest annual events in the country) and much more! Rachel has begun to establish herself as a world-class vocalist. But it doesnt end there. Because of her interest in helping other kids, Rachel has utilized her considerable talents to record songs that encourage her fans to see the strength within themselves and not allow outside influences to dampen their dreams. Songs like Look In The Mirror focus on teen bullying; It Happens (Sometimes) suggests the possibility of young love conquering all obstacles and lasting always and forever, Fall In Love With Me centers on understanding how to love yourself before loving someone else and Better Let It Go deals with knowing when to end a tempestuous relationship. Rachel has teamed with veteran songwriter/producers Grammy nominated Jayne Olderman and J. Donte Harris to create AND co-write her upcoming CD on Racaday Records entitled "Look in the Mirror". Release date is scheduled for early June '07. This body of work is a true expression of how passionate Rachel is about becoming a viable force within the music industry. Theres a reason the sun shines so bright in this part of America! and part of that reason is Rachel Little!!!
