Folk with a hint of celtic influence. Stunning vocals, sensitive lyrics and a delightful sprinkling of humor. Guitars, cello, bodhran, rich, warm harmonies and a great acoustic sound. 11 MP3 Songs FOLK: like Joni, SPIRITUAL: Contemporary Christian Details: The CD: Pure, clear vocals, superbly-crafted tunes, and a taste of Wendy's refreshingly spontaneous humor are all intriguing ingredients contributing to this beautifully-spun CD. While her unique and distinctive vocals possess an innocence and simplicity easily able to pierce your heart, equally impressive is her ability as a songwriter to produce poignant, soul-searching lyrics. This album is a delightful blend of sensitive, well thought-out tunes, and Wendy's ever-present, irrepressible humor only serves to further enhance it. She is a comedienne in her own right - her website features video clips of impersonations and witty stories performed at her shows - and her constant sense of fun spills over into fan favorites "Menopause" and "It's Not Fair". Her "Years Of My Youth" takes us on a wistful, nostalgic journey through Wendy's childhood. "Bitter Tears" chronicles the story of an adult woman recalling her upbringing with an alcoholic mother, and the struggle to forgive her. And "God's Got His Eye On You" and "This Love Of God" no doubt speaks to our spiritual side, bringing comfort and solace in the midst of life's sometimes tumultuous journey. The Artist: Born and raised in Montreal, Canada, Wendy Farha began songwriting at 18 years old, and has since composed hundreds of songs, performing them in concert halls, coffeehouses and churches in Europe, the West Indies, the United States, and Canada. She has more than 30 character impersonations in her repertoire (Celine Dion, the Queen, Archie and Edith Bunker...) and her shows are a delightful blend of song and comedy rolled into one memorable evening. She is also an accomplished children's performer, and has appeared on Kids CBC Television and in numerous children's venues. She is an Interpreter for the Deaf, and, when bribed, teaches audiences the occasional song in American Sign Language. wendy.ca
