Daniel is a dynamic performer with a refreshing sense of humor a wonderful guitarist that approaches the instrument with a classical left and right hand technique playing in many open tunings which give him a huge guitar sound. As a singer/songwriter Daniel writes and sings about honest experiences telling stories written in major and minor keys, he will pick you up and lay you down. Recently relocated from Nashville, Tennessee Daniel is currently living in and performing around Phoenix, Arizona. Daniel has just released his first recording titled "the only Rational Act" the musical arrangements use of violin, mandolin, cello, upright bass and guitar make this 11 cut release including 3 instrumental interludes a mellow, haunting, listening experience. "Hauntingly Naked Classical Folk" is the way that I like best to describe my music. "Hauntingly Naked" means completely exposed honesty ... and "Classical Folk" is a perfect way to describe the way music comes to me, "Classical" in the sense of harmony and melody, "Folk" in the simplistic way the music is delivered.
