Jim Gasper, Tom Dukes and Tom Privett have been making music together for about twenty odd years. Jim and Tom D. grew up together in Indiana. They relocated to Tucson Arizona where they recorded and performed together as "Gasper Dukes". Jim was introduced to Tom Privett and joined the band "The Mobile Cubes" this band featured local guitar legend "Rubin Ruiz". The Cubes played and recorded together for about four years they were on the brink of snagging a recording contract with Warners Brothers, when the bottom fell out. Total musical burnout.. Everybody took some much needed time off. It was around 1990 when Tom Dukes, Mike Adair, Ruben Ruiz Tom Privett, and Jim Gasper got together to record a cd project under the name "The Free Holy Men". One of the songs "The Last Cowgirl" was featured on a CD compilation for a small independent Label called "Rocket Records." We have just released "JTIOM" a five song cd of original material. In December we begin rehearsals for live shows in Tucson, and Phoenix. Our music has been described as "Neil Young meets the Beatles, with James Taylor and Joe Jackson sitting in."
