

Mp3 Lee Quick - Do You Think?

DOWNLOAD HERE

"An intelligent blend of folk, blues, bluegrass and country with occasional flashes of lyrical insight ... sassy and heartfelt" (Americana-UK.com) 12 MP3 Songs FOLK: Modern Folk, COUNTRY: Country Rock
Details: female singer-songwriter guitarist dishes out original alt. country/folk/Americana with a New Orleans attitude  Lee Quick's first album, "Do You Think?", is a rootsy ride through the wry side of folk and alt. country. But don't put on your old dusty hat just yet: this lyrical, sharp-witted collection touches on a variety of styles eclectic enough to keep you "thinking quick." "Do You Think?" features ten Lee originals plus two songs co-written with James Quick, including the fan favorite "Folk U.", a tongue-in-cheek look at musical (and sexual) education. One standout song, "If I Apologize," originally penned in 1940 by Lee's late grandmother, Ann Whitman Dudoit, is receiving emotional accolades from listeners; it's been described as "something Patsy Cline should have sung." And "Bored To Hell," with its quirky, catchy hook, shows Lee's dark and unique sense of humor. The CD was produced by New Orleans and international levee-billy master Mike West and features performances from West, Dave Stover (bass), Matt Swiler (drums), Trevor Brooks (piano/organ) and Gina Forsyth (violin). The independent album was a "quick" project, requiring only a few lengthy recording sessions in West's 9th Ward shotgun double during eight weeks of sweltering New Orleans autumn. Down-to-earth, straight-shooting and occasionally funny as hell, "Do You Think?" has both a brain and a heart.  Lee Quick dishes out alt. country, folk-rock, and whatever else strikes her. The Louisiana-born singer-songwriter-guitarist performs sharp, well-crafted songs with a cool wit and a warm voice, described as "rootsy and wry, cynical and sentimental." Her original songs show eclectic influences, from the Beatles and Elvis Costello to Johnny Cash and Lucinda Williams. Lee started with her first three original songs at an open mic in January 2001, and in October 2003, made her debut at the Bluebird Cafe Writers

Night in Nashville. In 2004 she performed live on the syndicated TV program "New Orleans After Midnight," and this past summer appeared at Tipitina's, New Orleans.  CD CREDITS: 2003 L. Quick (BMI) All songs written by L. Quick except: "If I Apologize" by L. Quick/A. Whitman (BMI) "Just Another Lost Soul" by L. Quick/J. Quick (BMI) "Folk U." by L. Quick/J. Quick (BMI) Lee Quick: vocals, six twelve-string acoustic guitars, electric guitar (4), electric bass (4) Dave Stover: electric acoustic bass Matt Swiler: drums, percussion Trevor Brooks: piano, organ Gina Forsyth: violin (5, 9, 10) Mark Fowler: electric guitar (1, 2) Mike West: banjouki (4), electric guitar (6, 9), banjo mandolin (12) Produced and engineered by Mike West Recorded August-September 2003 at the Ninth Ward Pickin' Parlor, New Orleans, Louisiana, USA leequick.com

DOWNLOAD HERE

Similar manuals: