Copyright control .. At the beginning of 2008, International DJ and Producer George M (aka The Arthonoid and LBFV) came to London in search of a muse/collaborator. Fate dealt him a trump card in the guise of vocalist/songwriter Julie Hicklin (aka Siren) and the union of UBERTRONIC was born. The duo found they shared a passion for the same music past and present, their rapport is instinctive. Brazilian born George moved to Barcelona in the 90's where he successfully played the European DJ circuit, he became discerning picking and choosing his events, in order to devote his time to his greatest love creating and producing his own tracks. His cutting edge dance tracks were screaming out for a vocalist/lyricist and exposure, George knew that London would be the place to find both. British born Julie Hicklin's (aka Siren) voice and songwriting has found her constantly in demand thus creating tracks in different styles : triphop, electronica, trance, indie, breakbeat. "music is music, if it moves me whatever the genre, I feel compelled to write to it." She's had releases on Botchit, Hi-dro and 99 north. Airplay on Kiss fm, performed at Madame JoJos, Cafe de Paris, Barfly, Mother and Gay pride. Her voice has also been featured on TV ads. Ubertronic have thrilled UK audiences performing at well known venues i.e. Dublin Castle, Circus and the Dogstar.
