Somewhere between Alanis Morissette and The Indigo Girls in style, Skye's songs reach a depth of feeling ranging from elation to sorrow and anything between. 6 MP3 Songs FOLK: Modern Folk, POP: Folk Pop

Details: Skye Pixton is a fresh singer/guitarist who is quickly rising in the ranks of Portlands favorite chanteuses. Somewhere between Alanis Morrisette and the Indigo Girls in style, there is a woodsy quality to this seamless and emotive pop, which has also been compared to Shawn Colvin and Jewel. Her commanding yet sensitive voice, incredible original songs, and magnetic personality have earned her a growing list of loyal fans. Skyes most recent musical project, Love Lies Skye, is a venture into performance art. Breaking with traditional concert format, her new show implements audience engagement, visual art, story telling, and weaves the music into a whole "piece" or story, rather than the typical list-of-songs style performance you usually see. Regardless of whether you catch her solo or with her ensemble, shell carry your heart away. She is most often seen playing an acoustic guitar, accompanied by the rich harmonies of backup vocalists, a cello and light drums/percussion, creating an acoustic folk/pop sound that soars and shimmers with a passionate sense of the melodic. In 2005 she won the Portland Songwriters Associations best overall song award , a competition shes won twice before in the folk category. Her credits also include three television appearances, multi-state radio play, placement in the State Talent competition, singing of the national anthem at a Portland Trailblazers game, and a long list of popular venues where she has performed. Her never-ending stream of new songs, each seemingly better than the last, make her not only promising for the near future but also a definite mainstay in the music scene for many years to come. The sky may indeed be the limit for [Skye Pixton] who is a rising star Julie Russell, Lake Oswego Review Portlands own folksinger and songwriter, Skye Pixton, recipient of multiple awards from the Portland Songwriters Association, provides a powerful yet somehow gentle voice - complementing lyrics and music about the tormented search for belonging
