Her poems awaken awareness of how wonderful our world is. She has been writing poetry since 1969. She writes poetry to inspire new poets and artists. Self taught, her writings come from the heart. She lived and breathed these poems on the Gulf Shore on South Siesta Key in Sarasota , Florida while staying at Turtle Beach Campground . Come and have a listen from someone who has lived in Florida for sixty years. Theresa poem "Trading Spaces" was chosen by the Sarasota Arts Counsel and the Holocaust Mueseum for an exhibit at Island Park in Sarasota. She has also been published in the Peppertree and the Pelican Press in Sarasota. Theresa's New CD "BEACH ACCESS I " was inspired by a teacher from Palm Beach, California who works with blind children. She was looking for something to give those children a feel for nature on the Gulf Shore. Theresa was also involved in helping to save beach access for generations to come. Sarasota County is a place where people are interested in preserving our endangered pristine treasures of the Gulf Shore. You can reset your body rhythm and heal yourself by listening to the waves and sounds of the Gulf Shore. This was a work of love from me to you. Enjoy!!!!
