FACT: Learning HTML is essential if you want control over your website Whether you are paying someone else to do the work on your website, or you are creating your own web pages using a web-authoring tool, you will never be fully in control of your website contents unless you are able to update it yourself. Sure, you can contact your designer and ask them if they have the time to make a few changes for you, or you can get to a computer where there is a web-authoring tool that you are familiar with, and maybe in a few hours or days your changes can be ready and published, but, if you know HTML and have access to a simple text editor, a file transfer program, and an internet connection, you, yourself, can make those changes anytime, anywhere. Knowing HTML, even the basics, gives you the power to publish what you want, when you want. This 14-part video series teaches the basics of HTML and web-page design, putting you on the right track to taking control of your web presence. HTML 101 HTML For Beginners Video 01 An Introduction To HTML The first video of the HTML Video series serves as an introduction to the HTML programming language. The HTML language is the key to how your browser interprets the code that makes up a web page; understand HTML and you'll be on the way to creating

your own fantastic website in no time! HTML For Beginners Video 02 The Basics In video 02 of the HTML Video series, uncover the basics of a web page.
