A Mosaic of country/folk music with a flash of swing...nice ballads too. 13 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Country Folk, FOLK: Modern Folk Details: Mindy blends serious and muse with the ease of a seasoned entertainer. Her recordings reflect the professional approach she takes to her career and gives the listener a full, varied plate on which to feast. Each recording reveals a different side of Mindy and her musical talent. Mindy's songwriting is strong in lyric and melody and varied in style. Known for her satirical approach toward dysfunctional relationships as in "Hit The Road" she also shares a more sensitive and introspective part of her personality in her songs like "I Didn't Mean It, Don't Get It" that reflect social concern. "A Fine Life In The Country" was recorded live in concert with a full band on stage. Then later mixed down with overdubs that include Vassar Clements on Fiddle, (The Freedom Ride), John McEwen on Banjo,(Ain't Florida Neat) as well as some excellent local musical talent, Dave Lapio on Steeldrum (Coconut Tree), Jim Bickerstaff on Mandolin (The Freedom Ride) and Count M'Butu adding percussion to several arrangements. As one fan puts it..."As a performer this self proclaimed "blond" has grown stronger and more confident with every appearance we've seen. Her well crafted songs are complimented by her sweet voice and her fine comedic timing. She can set many moods easily." Find out more about Mindy Simmons at: mindysimmons.com
