It is only as we engage others that we permanently succeed. The Odyssey Foundation for the Arts, LLC, (TOFA) has an aspiration to give something back to the music community. The mission is to enhance music education programs in public schools, and to raise awareness of the positive impact music participation has on students. Music can be an attention grabbing part of integrated instruction reinforcing, concepts in math, English, science, and social studies. The foundation wants to extend opportunities such as giving local, low-income children who are participating in school band programs the capacity to acquire their own personal instruments. Also, the foundation is supporting local music development as it relates to studio production, studio engineering, recording and lyric development, because studies show that students exposed to innate learning capacity, score higher than students not involved in music programs. The foundation teamed up with the ODYSSEY Sound, Lab, LLC to produce a musical CD and accompanying workbook to support the enhancement of standardized testing material.
