A trip hop martini with a jazz olive. From influences of combustible edison to primus, Salva Me's indie trip hop sound is laced with smooth but yet sometimes raw elements of traditional and modern jazz and dance/pop music. 9 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Trip Hop, POP: New Wave Details: Stephanie Castillo and Jesse Korleski, bored one night in South Beloit, il, started feeling a bit creative. Armed with only a bass, amp and keyboard, they began throwing around ideas for fresh new music. Powered by Jesse's modern sound and energized by Stephanie's high-voltage vocals, Salva Me was born. Jesse Korleski (bass/songwriter and lyricist) is an experienced studio musician, and offers his talents on drums, guitar, electric bass and stand-up bass. Stephanie Castillo (vocalist/lyricist) has been studying classical technique for ten years. Her powerful, angelic sounds add color and a story to the music. With this unique sound, Jesse and Stephanie started moving toward a new realm that was outside of their prior music experiences. In a matter of months, what started out as a night of boredom became a hot new groove-alicious sound. After writing a handful of songs, Stephanie and Jesse decided their group was ready to expand - so they invited a couple of other musicians into the band. Recently, the band added keyboardist Nicole Steed. She replaces the two temporary keyboardists that helped Salva Me get their start. The collective talents of Salva Me bring a complex and distinctive sound to the world of music. With a perfect blend of vocal styling and musical imagination, Salva Me is definitely beating their own path of originality.
