Details: Living Room, a compact trio of young musicians that succeeds in creating a spectacular sound, herewith proudly presents its first album Delivered by Forsteps. An unbroken melancholy underlines the voice that sometimes awkwardly whines and then suddenly becomes lyrically profound. The bass and the drums constantly drive the songs on sometimes they accompany or resound the melody in the background, at other times they provide a frame to all corners and endings while the voice carefully and teasingly adds its melodies. Well selected words and surprising intros keep the songs moving and make prick up ones ears. Pop, Funk and RnB influences can be distinguished on this album but its mostly the jazzy rhythms, stylishly changing dynamics and forcefulness of the texts as well as of the melodies that make the audience understand that these artists have something to say. Living Room creates intense but at the same time simple music that sticks in your mind. Its worth listening to. Tags: pop
