Singer/songwriter J Syntax had been writing material for Mystic Syntax for almost 10 years before he decided to search for musicians to take this project to the next level. It was then that J found RE:JECt through a local musicians classified ad post and the two of them took the project and hit the ground running. RE:JECt flipped after hearing this music for the first time. Immediately he gathered some fellow musicians and booked the bands very first live show, opening for Dope at the legendary Alrosa Villa.
