Four good friends with their own unique take on the traditional folk archetype. From Blau's electronics, Gift Machine's quiet harmonies, Graves quirky chill pop, and Nate Ashley's brooding melodies, there is a beautiful diversity, while still maintaini 13 MP3 Songs in this album (37:11) ! Related styles: FOLK: Alternative Folk, FOLK: Psych-folk People who are interested in Beck Elliott Smith Mount Eerie should consider this download. Details: This is a four-way split from four artists who have spent the last decade collaborating, touring, and hanging out together. They are currently spread out all over the West Coast, from San Diego to Anacortes, in the northern tip of Washington State. Karl Blau (K Records) brings a dancy, electro-folk aesthetic that is highly influenced by the natural beauty of the Fidalgo Islands. Gift Machine have a more beach party folk vibe; imagine them sitting on the sand with a guitar and percussion while their buddies are out in the breakers. Graves have a smooth, consistent, turn-of-a-phrase-with-tongue-in-cheek quality that instantly wedges itself in your head for days. Nate Ashley crafts beautiful, brooding, dark, pop songs that meld perfectly with the weather of the Pacific Northwest.
