A collection of soft Adult Contemporary/ '70's-style pop songs from this emerging Australian songwriting and production duo. Featuring female vocals with acoustic guitar piano/keyboard arrangements, this impressive CD is in a style reminiscent of ONJ 10 MP3 Songs POP: 70's Pop, POP: with Live-band

Production Details: When Singaporean-born Wendy Liew met Australia's Scott Williams, little did they know that their common love of melodic singer/ songwriter music would evolve into a successful songwriting business. Featuring "Earthly Good" (June 2005 Finalist in Song of the Year international songwriting contest) and the Christmas-inspired "The World Is Calling Out For You" (December 2005 Runner-Up), "SW Songs and Publishing" marks the debut release from this unique songwriting production duo. This impressive collection of songs caters for the listener who truly appreciates the craft of songwriting. Whilst most of this CD is written from personal experience, Liew Williams actively encourage their artistic colleagues to record and/ or perform their songs. Says Liew, "the themes touched upon in our songs are experienced by all levels of society. The CD represents an Adult Contemporary interpretation of our compositions; Scott I would love to hear different versions of our songs recorded and performed by artists of similar or different persuasions. The beauty of songwriting is that regardless of production quality or artistic arrangement, the message behind the song is never lost".
