Contemporary galvanising jazz fusion that wanders anomic and hectic into early genre's houses, walks into their closets and tries on their mom's clothes. 11 MP3 Songs JAZZ: Jazz Fusion, JAZZ: Weird Jazz Swingin' Singles Songs Details: This most recent release from the Acker Bros entitled Swingin' Singles employs the use of the very latest in modern technology to bring you the full stereophonic spectrum of their way out sounds! They've incorporated space age sound generating devices called "wah wah pedals", "fuzz tones" and even a spaced out electronic gadget called a "synthesizer", which seems to produces unearthly sounds we'd imagine little green men from Mars might make. Their supersonic guitars and free-wheeling back beats will have even the most ardent squares tapping their uptight toes. This record album of today sets a new standard for modern recording and is guaranteed to give you an unforgettable musical experience. It's the "now" sound of tomorrow, today! A reporter transported through time to the year 1998 might be overheard to remark, "A space odyssey in the beat of today - with the far out sounds of tomorrow's uncharted trip beyond the now generation." So friends, set the dial on your jet pack to Gonesville because Swingin' Singles is one far out trip! Herb Fountainbleu - Jazz Examiner
