Dave Rogers has worked for the company since it was founded in 1973 and Dave Dale worked with the company from 1984 to 1997. Together they have provided songs and theatre in support of many struggles, ranging from parents fighting school closures, and black people opposing deportations, through to workers defending their jobs, and communities fighting for their survival. Along the way they have sniped at just about every tyrant from General Pinochet to George Bush.
