Classic English melodramatic popular song. 12 MP3 Songs POP: British Pop, POP: Beatles-pop Details:

In 2006, by accident, I discovered that there was computer software available which allowed people to record music without having to pay for an expensive recording studio. Once I got over the surprise, it dawned on me that a whole new world of song writing and recording may be open to me. During 2006 I taught myself how to use this technology to a certain degree. By January, 2007, I thought that maybe I could write, perform, sing, record and produce a complete song on my own. Three weeks later I nervously played it to three people and waited for a polite response. To my utter amazement I got more than just a polite response. Instead I was told that the song made two of the people cry, and the other one swear. I took this to be a good reaction! Boosted by this I continued to write around fifteen songs during 2007 and have written another ten by May 2008. I only plucked up the courage to send these songs to other people at the end of 2007. I also got reasonably positive feedback from most of the radio stations and record companies. Since the start of 2008 I have had radio airplay in USA. Asia and the UK. One of my songs will have a commercial release in Nov 2008. Other artists have, and are currently recording versions of many of my songs. I am now looking for a record or publishing deal, but as it is becoming increasingly apparent to me, this is where the hard work and disappointments begin..... People who are interested in The Beatles The Smiths Coldplay should consider this download.
