"...the 27-year-old NY expat...has a knack for crafting songs that trip off her tongue and worm their way into your brain, where they nest and lay eggs that make your head bob dreamily. " ---Sam Hurwitt, The Eastbay Express "

"...Felice's music reaches directly into your throat and takes hold of you--with or without permission...'A Place to Rest My Head' marks Felice as an artist to watch." ----Amber Adrian, SFWeekly

"Felice is not the easiest music to describe...the vocals defy all typical folk-rock; and could be easily described as a fusion of Alanis Morissette and Dolores O'Riorden from the Cranberries....There is a purity to the sound of her voice that is simply indescribable." ---West Coast Performer Mag
