Authentic Slovak native music with original lyrics. New songs, old style, traditional hand made instruments, nature and animal sounds throughout, very charming and captivating. Revival of native Slavic culture. 20 MP3 Songs WORLD: Eastern European, WORLD: Folklore Show all album songs: From The Mountain Paradise Songs Details: Z vrcharskeho raja (From the Mountain Paradise) is Ľiarišlav's tenth (latest) album, it is his best selling CD in his home land. About half of the songs are upbeat and rocking, some are slow ballads. Even though all lyrics are in Slovak language, you will know exactly what this man is singing about as he included sounds of nature and his animals - horses, goats, dogs - on the recordings. Special guest - singing dog Borka (track #15 "white sheep dog"), his companion that has many offspring now. See his web site for pictures from his mountain paradise. Ľiarišlav - musician, multi-instrumentalist, songwriter, instrument maker, writer, former journalist and geologist -lives and works in seclusion in the Stolicne Vrchy (capital hills) of central Slovakia. After many years of intensive work in the cities he has retrieved into the mountains where he founded organization for revival of the ancient natural spirituality - the Native Circle. There, in the woods, he created a special animal farm, where he lives accompanied by horses, goats, sheep, dogs and cats, all free ranged. He is often visited by people interested in natural lifestyle and ancient spirituality, as well as those that are planning to settle in the nearby area. Occasionally, Ľiarišlav travels to towns, cities and other settlements, where he is invited to speak and perform. He also leads ceremonies of ancient annual celebrations, creative workshops and classes on different areas of Vedomectvo, practice he developed based on ancient spirituality and natural lifestyle in the new era. In addition to music, written word and other art genres (dance, art and theater), Ľiarišlav's recent work includes ethnography, ethnology, ethno-musicology and history in connection with the revived ancient Vedomectvo. Ľiarišlav finds the answers and remedies for the current civilization and ecological problems in the revival of Slovak and Slavic culture, through which he points towards the Indo-European culture, encompassing all humanity and all beings. There is a live interest in his teachings in his home land as well as abroad, mostly in the neighboring Czech Republic and Moravia and other Slavic countries. The rest of the world is getting familiar with his work through his musical recordings. arislav's other interests and hobbies include archery with hand made bows and arrows, production of goat and sheep cheese, animal care and communication with other entities and healing.
