Long-awaited solo CD from Brian Wilson's Band member. The Byrds' country-rock sound with CSNY-style harmonies, R.E.M.'s jangly Rickenbackers, Joe Jackson's scale-sliding melodies and Glen Campbell's tremolo guitars. 12 MP3 Songs POP: Folky Pop, ROCK: Americana Details: NELSON BRAGG is a drummer-percussionist-singer-songwriter-producer-arranger who plays with Brian Wilson, The Quarter After, The Now People, The Mello Cads, Carolyn Edwards, Jeff Merchant and has played and recorded with The Tyde, Stew, Cloud Eleven, and The Mockers. Bragg began working on Day Into Night in 2003, six months before he got the call to join Brian Wilson on the road for the now-legendary Brian Wilson Presents SMiLE, which was performed before a live audience in London in February 2004. I had already laid down the vocals and most of the backing tracks, Bragg said in an interview. The Stockholm Strings Horns, who also performed in the SMiLE tours, appear on seven tracks of the new album. After a year and eight months performing in seven tours with Brian Wilson, Bragg went back into the studio in September 2005 to finish Day Into Night. During the SMiLE tours, I had to put the solo album on hold. But the tours also allowed me to finance finishing it. And working with Brian inspired me to make the best album I could possibly make.
