Its not just retro and classic, its also new and timeless! The debut album, Songs of Hypocrisy and Hippos offers nine gems of the genre, all hoping to make you sing along, tap your feet, drive a little faster, or maybe just crack a smile. Listeners have described these nice pop ditties as subversively catchy with rockin production that could definitely be hits! These are actual quotes. Why would Broken Promise Keeper want to deceive you? This just-add-water instant masterpiece was prodded into creation by the 2007 RPM Challenge, a dare to write and record an albums worth of material during the month of February. But the tunes and talent harken back to the 1980s janglepop scene of North Carolina, where Broken Promise Keeper cut his teeth in new music clubs located throughout the Southeast. So again, its not just retro and classic, its also new and timeless! Why would I lie?
