I reinterpret the classics through a contemporary lens making them fresh and innovative, with improvisations driven by a modern beat. Violinist Daisy Jopling was born in London, and now lives in NYC. She has spent the last 12 years living in Vienna and touring the world with the creative string trio Triology, with whom she has recorded 4 CDS, 2 with BMG RCA Victor. triology.cc. Her Solo work has included playing a concerto in the Royal Albert Hall in London at the age of 14, and playing before 30,000 people at the opening of the Vienna Festival in May 2005. She has participated in writing the music for many films, including 2 in Hollywood, Spanglish and The Road to El Dorado, and has written the music for a puppet show in NYC, "Feathers from the Sky". She has just released her first solo album, "Key to the Classics", with the incredible producer Bojan Dugic. The inspiration for this album literally came from a vision in the middle of the night, Daisy says, It brings together my 30 years of musical experience. Although my roots are in classical music, I have been drawn to and blessed by many musical influences around the world over the years, from folk and other traditional music to the latest trends in hip-hop and reggae."
