Details: Hi, I'm Doug Hazard, and what I do is, I write songs. I've been writing them for quite a while, I've sold some to publishers in the Brill Building in NYC, I've played them here and there, recorded several albums of them, had them used in movies... but none of that matters much. What matters is whether they are good songs: pretty to hear, and worthwhile to contemplate. Songs that can run around in your head for a while and be more of a pleasure than an annoyance.
