Fun, California Christmas music; Jazz, Rock and the Blues all tied together with a holiday ribbon. 6 MP3 Songs BLUES: Rockin' Blues, KIDS/FAMILY: Children's Pop Details: Four year old Jessica Taylor sings with her 5 piece Jazz combo band about the joys of Christmas in California. It all started last Christmas, when Jessica stopped singing a Christmas carol with her mom to ask "Mommy, what's snow?" That's when Jessica and her mom started making up silly Christmas songs about things near and dear to a Southern California kid's heart. Jingle bells was transformed - "Dashing through the grass, on a warm and sunny day/cars are whizzing past, on the freeway..." Instead of 'Let it snow!' in Southern California one says "Let's go!": "Oh the weather outside's delightful, we can't stay in-doors till night falls, sooo- let's DRIVE to the snow, let's go, let's go, let's go!" We hope this rocking, sometimes bluesy pure California Christmas nonsense makes your 'green Christmas' a little, shall we say, warmer?
