Vocals Details: Kathy Wolfe Lead Vocalist Rhythm Guitarist Kathy is the founder of WolfHound. After many years of performing classical music in various settings, she became a regular at local blues jam sessions in Columbus, OH. Once she was hooked by the blues, she began her quest to form her own blues band. In 1997, her dream was realized and Wolfhound was born. Kathy combines her love of the blues with her classical training in voice and piano and performs blues, r&b, and a touch of classic rock. Her influences include Bonnie Raitt, Janis Joplin and Debbie Davies. Richey "B" Lead and Rhythm Guitar, Lead/Backing Vocals Richey "B" brings a wealth of experience to WolfHound. He has played with a number of bands over the years, including Richey "B" and the Redliners, 30/06 and Three Ball Express and has hosted the long-running Monday night blues jam at the Dolphin Lounge in Gahanna, Ohio. In addition, he currently plays with Hootie McBoob the Inflatable Dates. His influences include Albert Collins, Buddy Guy, Duke Robillard and Muddy Waters. Patrick McLaughlin Lead and Rhythm Guitar, Lead/Backing Vocals Patrick McLaughlin was born in Columbus, Ohio in 1979. He started to study guitar seriously at age nine, inspired by the sounds of Jimi Hendrix, Eric Clapton, B.B. King, Buddy Guy and Stevie Ray Vaughan. His grandparents, Bill and Linda Rayburn, also played a major role in his musical roots. They had a band called Sugar 'n' Spice and the Studebakers, which was a '50s-60's revue band. Some of the best players in Columbus were a part of the Studebakers and taught Patrick many things to play. One of those people was Richard P. Boals. In 1997, at age 18, Patrick joined Richard P. Boals as a member of the Soals. He toured across the country playing over 200 dates a year and recorded three albums on the Growlin' Bare label. In April 2000, Patrick parted with the Soals and returned to Columbus where he teaches guitar and works on several musical projects as well as playing with WolfHound. Bruce MacLaughlin Bass Guitar Bruce has been playing professionally for almost twenty years. Playing in "garage" rock bands in high school led to studies in jazz at Bowling Green State University in the late 1980's. Since then, Bruce has played in almost every popular musical idiom with countless groups and configurations of players. Asked how many gigs he has played in two decades, he says, "I have no idea, but the figure is well into the four digit range. And I mean WELL into the four digit range! My personal best for one year is over two hundred and fifty gigs." Bruce recently returned to his Central Ohio roots after a five year "stint" in New York City where he played in punk bands, bar mitzvah bands, and everything in between. He is currently a stay at home dad looking after his unusually beautiful and gifted daughter.

Ryan Parkevich Drums and Percussion Ryan is a founding member of WolfHound. Ryan approaches his drumming like a locomotive engineer and a scuba diver (his other passions). Taking the listener (and the band!) above and below the musical sea level with a rock steady back beat and dynamic finesse, Ryan grooves through the musical shoals effortlessly. His experiences include stints with the pop/rock band Direct Hit and the classic hard rock band Silence.
