Soul singer and musician Mr. Jazz is from everywhere. Though he was born in Compton California. Until now an undiscovered juxtaposition as he promises more comes out of the CPT than gangsta rap. His inner city blues travels far and wide. While his love for the Soul icons of the 70s inspired him to sing. As former member of MCA Records IV Xample, best know for their single "I'd Rather Be Alone" Mr. Jazz got his taste of camaraderie. After the label went through changes including major corporate and roster cuts, the group disbanded. As he waited for what was to be his next move, solo artist on Aftermath Records Mr. Jazz found himself doing session work for Compton's most noted Producer Dr. Dre. Once again hit with a stumbling block Mr. Jazz decided to form his own band and put himself at the helm of his own destiny. Though he plays guitar and bass, in 2003 he formed the band Soulmatik comprised of Los Angeles' best rhythm and soul musicians.
