After 7 years of full-time touring music ministry, 3 recording projects, hundreds of concerts services in front of more than 250,000 people quot; hes not impressed by statsbut only when God leaves His imprint and mark on the hearts of people. A college degree in Business sometimes prompts Andy to look for numbers or results that can be charted on a scorecard or spreadsheetbut hes found that you cant use statistics accounting to track or define the heart of a living God. As a Christian musician I might be able to track how many CDs sell quot; how many gigs I have in front of X number of people, in X number of states, while driving or flying X number of miles. But those numbers cannot tell or show how hearts are encouraged directed to God quot; how the Holy Spirit moves changes the heart of a man or woman quot; how a life might be challenged or transformed while seeking the face of Father God quot; how hope and faith can be restored quot; or how a broken person can be set free healed while chasing the call of Jesus! It doesnt matter to Andy if you call him an indie artist, worship leader, singer-songwriter or musician quot; he simply wants to make sure you know that he is deeply in love with his Jesus. If you take the time, youll see in him the maturity found in one whos traveled lifes dark roads been carried down those paths in the arms of Christ. Playing singing in cities and churches across the US, this seasoned performer and worship leader will touch your soul. A heart of praise and encouragement has been the mark of his ministry. Andy and his wife Pam live with their 5 kids in northern California. He tours and works with churches - leading worship concerts and sharing music in church services, along with teaching clinics and training worship teams. Andy is also a World Vision Artist, helping to meet the needs of the poor and specifically those suffering because of the HIV/AIDS pandemic in Africa.
