Husband-wife duo and friends create dreamy, atmospheric indie-pop. 10 MP3 Songs POP: Dream Pop, POP: Ambient Pop Details: Annabella, husband/wife indie-pop band comprised of Terri and Tim Dittmar and dubbed the best American band right now, period, by Indie Spinzone, has spent the last ten years creating mellow, hypnotizing music .The married couple spent 2006 touring theatres, coffee shops, and indie-clubs from Athens to New York City, touting their second official release, Songs of Goodbye. Their latest effort, Say Goodnight includes several of Tim and Terris friends, featuring the work of bassist Joshua Zarbo (Spoon 97-07, Future Clouds and Radar), guitarist Dave Wirth, singer/songwriter Anderson Bracht (bo bud greene, everythings gone green), and Meason Wiley (deadwaiter) contributed electronics and a re-mix version of Peachtree. Zarbo also played on the couples first self-titled CD and Wiley contributed to Songs of Goodbye. My God do I love this womans voice! It's both sexy, womanly, lovely, kind, charitable, innocent and knowing all at the same time. It purrs, it growls and it can cut thru you like butter and wash your soul in it's beauty And lets not forget her husband pens some brilliant accents as the music is perfect and well thought out. Wonderful, imaginative touches highlight just where they are needed, but no more than is needed. Every sound, every nuance, is deliberate and perfect go see them if you can because right now this is the best American band there is, period. indiespinzone.com Songs of Goodbye is Annabellas second record and their most fragile and poetic to date. While the piano-and-drums, husband-and-wife, duo from Georgetown TX is closer musically to bands like The Sundays and Mazzy Star, they will no doubt draw immediate comparisons to the Quasi / Mates Of State camp based on dynamic alone. Terri Dittmars voice, undoubtedly the focus of the record, sits atop a rich and beautiful reverberated soundscape of Rhodes-piano sustain, flute, and soft, distant, guitar arpeggios, which together make for a beautiful listening experience.--- moresuperfun This is a really good CD to just relax with. Sip a glass of wine, close your eyes and just let it wash over you. Nominated Top 20 CDs of 2005 --- collectedsounds.com "Songs" gives their sweet, sometimes folkie, sometimes dreamy sound an unexpected thematic strength ("Underneath", "Life is Sitcom") as engaging as it is listenable. Think Innocence Mission and Mazzy Star minus the gloom and with a spot of Texas sunshine. ---The Austin Chronicle Songs are smooth, catchy, and unique. Its that originality that makes Annabella so special and worth listening to on a regular basis. indulged.com Back in the early 90s, my friends and I began worshipping swirly-throated divas from bands like the Sundays, Spinanes, Mazzy Star, and the Innocence Mission. Texas duo, Annabella, hearkens back to those glory days without sounding retro These songs are so great, and despite the similarity to the above-mentioned bands, Annabella prove themselves to be astute contemporary songwriters.
