Mighty hooks and harmonies within smart songcraft and truly shining vocals. 13 MP3 Songs POP: Today's Top 40, POP: 70's Pop Details: Chicagos Down The Line continues to demonstrate that you dont need electricity to generate real power. Their third full-length album, For All You Break (scheduled for release March 9 at the Park West, Chicago), delivers mighty hooks and harmonies within smart songcraft and truly shining vocals. Its an acoustic mixguitar, mandolin, violin, harmonica and djembe, driven by a lone-electric bassthat the Chicago Sun-Times praised as an organic blend of rollicking pop. The group prefers to describe their sound more simply: acoustic pop. (Although when pressed, they explain, If The Cars had kids with Fleetwood Mac, well, theyd probably sound like us.) However you label them, Down The Line creates music thats pure, unique and unforgettable. The 13 never-played songs on For All You Break were arranged and recorded in only 12 days, a purposeful departure from the months-long recording processes of Down The Lines two previous albums, Please Remember My Name and Welcome To Flavortown. That self-imposed schedule intensity resulted in energetic and urgent performances by band members Levi Britton (acoustic guitar, vocals), Derek Fawcett (djembe, vocals), Dan Myers (harmonica, mandolin, violin, vocals), and Dave Rothkopf (acoustic guitar, bass, vocals). Down The Lines For All You Break reminds us that acoustic music can indeed be electrifying. For All You Break will be released March 9 at an all-ages performance at the Park West, Chicago. Soon after, Down The Line travels to Austin, Texas for a debut showcase at the South by Southwest music festival. The bands 2007 schedule will take them across the nation, including a touring stint as openers for classic rock icons America. Whether with America, in America or overseas, Down The Line is not to be missed.
