Received a 10 out of 10 points in category "Music with Lyrics" in Great American Song Contest critique. "Beautiful Artistry, passion and performance." Michael Peace, Singer/Songwriter and former member of "Filet of Sound" a Chicago based Show band, has recently found his music and songs popping up on web sites all around the world. The list is too long to print but a search on the web for "Michael Peace" will turn up hits in Australia, China, Germany, Japan, New Zealand, UK and on and on. His music crosses many genres but is primarily Pop, melodic, smooth and feel good music. He has control over a voice that can bring tears to your eyes and make you glad someone can still sing like that. He has been compared to Roy Orbison, Josh Groban and Clay Aiken and his musicianship on all the instruments is incredible. He has been writing and recording songs as far back as the mid 60s. "Now with the introduction of the Web, my music is really starting to take off," Peace says. "In the past, my band was at the mercy of the major record labels and record companies. We cut an album at Chicago's Chess Studios and waited almost two years before it was released. By then the music was so outdated that Chess didn't even want to promote it. Today, I can write and record a new song, have it up on the Internet and watch it take off on the various online charts in just a few days. My fans can buy the CDs right online and never have to go to a store. I don't have to worry about marketing and distribution either. CDBaby does that for me." One of the biggest changes brought about by the coming of digital music and the internet is that now songs have to be able to stand up on their own. Record Companies in the past could put out a CD with only two or three good songs and the whole CD sold. People have gotten smarter now. They only want the good stuff, the hits, not the "B" side songs or album cut songs. So now fans can buy exactly what they want. Michael's "The Night" CD is all "good stuff" not a "forget that" in the bunch. "The Night", includes a song made popular by one of Michael's favorite new artists, American Idol's Mr. Clay Aiken. "This is the Night" by Michael, is a solid version of this song but you will really enjoy Peace's own pieces like: "Maybe It's The Moon", "Living Without Love", "Beyond This Night", and more.
