Raised by wolves in the frozen tundra, it was evident at a young age Prince Charming was given to us by the gods of rock. Growing up, PC was put through a strict training program which included swimming in chummed waters through schools of great white sharks, crawling on all fours through hot coals and holding a plugged in microphone in a hot tub. When he misbehaved, he was whipped with bass guitar strings. At age 12, he was left on a deserted island 5,000 miles from civilization. PC created drums out of hollow trees and guitars out of bamboo and vines. After perfecting the play of each instrument, PC used the drums as a raft and the guitar as a paddle and he traveled the seven seas to get back to the USA. After graduating from FRU (Fairly Ridiculous University) he signed a long-term deal with the devil. In exchange for teaching the devil how to party, Prince Charming will remain on earth to jam like Mozart, joke like Seinfeld, look like Brad Pitt, and charm like Houdini. When PC is not at one of his palaces around the world, he can be found in NYC. Lock up your daughters!
