Country rock meets jazz, blues and Americana - Judith's is a voice that goes from siren silky smooth to rock blues belter all in one album - A treat. 12 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Americana, BLUES: Classic Female Blues Details: The Judith Jones Band comprises Singer songwriter, Judith Jones, Guitarist/songwriter and vocalist Rod Godwin and Bass Player and Songwriter Roy Jones. Here is the four star review we received in International Music Magazine Rock'n'Reel "West Cumbrian Based singer-songwriter Judith Jones displays a penchant for southern flavoured Americana on her debut twelve track album, Calling Yesterday Back. Recruiting the talents of Albert Lee, Rod Godwin(Badfinger) John Marcangelo and ex Van Morrison guitarist, Richard Nelson amongst others. Jones nevertheless exerts her authority over the proceedings. She lets her own voice speak while managing, with ease, to handle an admirable range of styles and approaches from a sublime reading of Lucinda Williams Lake Charles through the passionate, Jazz flavoured blues of Drown in My Own Tears and a confident reading of Hoagy Carmichaels Georgia, to the up-tempo country-rock of Parson and McGuinns Drug Store Truck Drivin Man. She wins plaudits for the poignant and powerful title track, its subject Jones search for he birth mother, deeply personal material that might have easily proven syrupy in the wrong hands., but here stands out as one of the albums highlights. Its gently persuasive melody and mandolin and accordion colourings add a folky element to her already diverse musical palette." Review from RocknReel, June 2007 with thanks to Sean McGhee People who are interested in Bonnie Raitt Janis Joplin Lucinda Williams should consider this download.
