If you want to make tons of great ebooks using proven strategies for high profit margins... read on! If You Have The Idea, For An Ebook Of Your Own... This Is How To Turn That Idea, Into A Cold Hard Cash Income ...Let Me Show You How To Market Research And Produce Best Sellers, Using The Best Top Notch Writers, Which Ill Show You How To Find! Date: Dear Entrepreneur, Ill bet you have at least one or two great ideas for a book. Why havent you written it? Same old excuses? Crunched for time, Not sure you can write well enough, Heard horror stories about how hard it is to get published... Any of these reasons sound familiar? What would you say, if I solved all of those problems and... even gave you solutions to problems you havent even dreamt up yet? Crazy? Not at all. Hold onto your hat because Im about to blow it away! You see, one of the things Im known for today, is for making a killing, selling ebooks online. Ive sold literally virtual tons of them! How do I get so much done, and make so much money doing it? Its very simple, every idea I get, I create a small outline for, research how to market it, and then hire a good writer to fill in the blanks. Dont think for a moment that you cant do it, until you at least take the time to let me explain how cheap and easy the process is. Lets begin right now! The ideas you have (and I know you have them) are awesome... dont let anyone tell you differently. They are yours and yours alone, but is there a market for them? Well, If there is a market for your idea, how do you find the buyers market? I know the secret, let me explain. Today, we have the Internet, this big scary beautiful monster that gathers data on everybody and everything. I call it beautiful because if youre someone who is trying to sell a book or an idea or any sort of information, this wonderful Internet behemoth is your new best friend! In fact, with the Internet, once you learn how, anytime of the day or night you get an idea, you can open your laptop, figure out how much your idea is worth, and where and how to find the people who are dying to pay you wads of cash, to get a chance to read about it. You can do this research in your bed while still in your jammies or at a wi-fi caf with cream cheese on your top lip and a coffee stains on the front of your sweat shirt. The information is there 24-7, 365 days a year! Best of all thanks to this bawdy little Internet thing, you wont have to pay a red cent to do any of this research! The information you need to know is just there, out in plain sight, as big as the nose on a clowns face. You need only to know where to look and how to interpret the data. Its easy! Ill explain in great detail later. But for now and for the sake of argument lets assume that your idea for a great book is How To Catch Snipes. Lets assume youve already done your research you know theres a market. After all, no one seem to be able to catch a snipe but there is no one who knows your secret snipe baiting ritual. You also know where would be snipe hunters like to hang out and mope about not catching anything. You my friend, are all set. Now That Your Idea Has Been Vindicated Now, that you know how good your idea really is, lets move on to turning your dreams into reality! We know there is a market for your book and we know how to find the people who are looking for it, when its done. What we need to do now... is to figure out how to get an actual book written while the irons hot! You could write it yourself...but first lets consider the alternative. Hire a ghostwriter! Wait, (SCREEEECH) before you balk at the idea, you should let me explain, how in another way, the Internet has come to your rescue! You see, the same way that the Internet has put you in touch with your long lost friends from high school the Internet can put you in touch with a slew of hungry and talented writers from all over the world ready to work cheap for you! On the Internet you can find just the right writer who can turn your idea into a full length book in a jiffy and bonus...(let you take all the credit for it). All for less than you can probably imagine. Understand that a good writer can turn out thousands of words in less time than the average person can write a single page. Why? Because they love to write and do it everyday, remember that practice makes perfect! Understand also, that being a writer means learning to be competitive, and when you hire via the Internet you literally do have the world at your finger tips, therefore the price of a great writer can drop incredibly low. Using the Internet you can get writers to compete like arm wrestlers simply for the right to work for you! Just think...You like a god with the ability to auction off the rights to fulfill your dreams. How does that sound? Often, hungry writers all over the planet will back bite and undercut each other for a chance to have a job and youll get to reap the benefits of getting fine literature written for you, at the price of a pair flip flops and bowl of soggy noodles. Real World Example: For instance, when you know where to look, (and depending on the subject matter) its easy to find a great writer who will deftly write a thirty page of report for you, for less than a ten dollar bill. ( Honest, This has happened) Now, lets say you then take that report which you payed ten dollars for and sell a copy for seven dollars to just one person. One sale and youve almost made all of your money back! Each subsequent sale then is just frosting on your cupcake! That Last Example, Is Just One Of The Ways, Ive Made A Killing Off Of One Of My Ideas ! You can do it too! Of course, you need to find the right writer who can turn your idea into a masterpiece, and youll need know how to explain to him or her your idea so that they can get to work writing your epic! Caution: You also have to take appropriate precautions to insure that you get your writer to do what you paid for! Warning: Youll want to doubly and triply make sure that no would be writer can tip toe away (or run like mad) with your great idea! All of these things Ill be happy to explain! Ive been down these roads many times, been there done that, and I am dying to share with you what Ive learned along the way! And so, without further adieu, Let me introduce to you my very own latest idea for an ebook, one which shows you how turn your own ideas into an ebook like this one... A Great Ebook!
