The haunting vocals of English singer songwriter andrew foster touch the heart of the human condition 6 MP3 Songs FOLK: Alternative Folk, ROCK: Acoustic Show all album songs: Behind Closed Doors Songs Details: Andrew Foster has been writing prolifically over the last year which has seen him release 3 EP's in a year, with many songs still to come from this period. The latest EP Behind closed doors holds a mirror to the last few months. Its been recorded in a manner that reflects the nature of his material. The vibe of the song is sometimes more important than the sound, and some of the original demos have been included with the urgency and delivery of when they were first written. This expansive 6 track EP explores a few styles alongside the trademark acoustic sound that he performs live. Title track Behind closed doors is a rock stomper that twists and turns and new track written with loops Do you stop for car crashes demonstrates his hidden love of loops and programming. Arguably the stand out track The Alchemist is bare in production and features a personal delivery that haunts the listener. The song was written in the last week of the EP's construction, and even though was recorded by taking the output out of his loop pedal is the final take! Deja Vu is another haunting track featuring Loz Bridge from local band Surburbian on piano, and will appeal to the more lyrically interested listener. Influences to Andrew are a wide range hence the broad musical spectrum. He sits alongside artists such as Ryan Adams, Neil Young, Scott Mathews, with there subtle delivery. Yet also maintains his English-ness with alternative indie roots. "A spacious field, harmonically clean and tinged with an old time melancholy. Andrew Fosters Watching Clocks EP is confident and well concieved, infused at points with an insidiously catchy, silken voiced minstrelry... Lyrically mature and struck with professionalism.....subtle and heartfelt - which is the way it should be" THE FLY "An excellent piece of work" Xan Phillips Original FM "Great tunes, thoughtful lyrics, engaging stage presence, a loyal growing fanbase, commerical awareness and completely reliable - a promoter's dream artist!" Iain @ Stiff Promotions August 2007
