His recordings include children's records, and Steve Roach's Now, Quiet Spaces and Traveler. Will's recordings on Hydrogen Records includes Helios Rising and Helios Attunement. Helios Attunement is a sonic montage that explores the depths of consciousness through 'resonant theurgy' and mystical numerical constructs such as the Yi Jing and the Fibonacci series. Resonant theurgy is the use of time cycles for the performance of a musical piece or the conducting of a form of spiritual ritual. For instance the piece 'Sothic Vector' is based on a grand time cycle according to the Egyptian calendar. Another example is 'Spring Thaw' that was recorded at the spring equinox. 'Touchstone' is a piece that is based on numerical constructs. The musical patterns are generated by transposing the hexagrams of the Yi Jing upon the Mayan calendar. This work was originally discussed by Jos Argelles. This music has been tested in clinical settings for efficacy in healing environments. The very first piece on the CD involves the actual recording of a Reiki Attunement. The piece was recorded while an attunement, which is a healing initiation, was recorded. These vibrations come through the recording and enhance healing work of all kinds.
