Acoustic Driven adult contemporary high energy music 10 MP3 Songs POP: Today's Top 40, POP: with Live-band Production Details: Dan Purser is an adult contemporary artist from Seattle. Fans would say his music sounds like Matchbox 20 and Train, among others. The EMP called his music "energetic and passionate". Like many other musicians, Dan started his career singing in choir. Developing an even deeper love for music, he decided to embark on his own career. In 1999 Dan Purser formed the band "foolish Souls", and made their first demo. In 2001 the band went back into the studio and made their full-length album, "On the Inside". Later that year the band released the album and followed up with a summer tour. Selling a combined 5000 copies of their demo and new album, Foolish Souls made their first mark in the local music scene. In the winter of 2003, Dan Purser went in the studio to record his first solo album, "If you think you can". This album is full of catchy hooks, great harmonies, and if you like a sense of humor with ability to dream, you're sure to like the album. This album was released in May of 2004 and a summer tour followed. Dan's new full-length release Not Coming Home has debut very strong in the market and a September 2005 tour to follow. Backed up by seasoned professional players, Dan's live performance will capture your emotions. He's got great stage presence, an amazing voice, and his new band is incredible.
