Latin music 10 MP3 Songs LATIN: General, LATIN: Merengue Details: El Danny (Danny Reyes) was born in the province of Maria Trinidad Sanchez in Nagua, Dominican Republic. At the age of six he was already giving off a sense of his artistic gifts. In his hometown, El Danny would sing in activities for infants as well as sing in parks, colleges, and national festivities. There he started to be recognized and was soon commented among people that this kid at the time, Danny Reyes had talents and soon after started to be invited into more regional activities, where he received first place recognition. Later on Danny goes on to become part of the group The Star Band La Star Band as vocalist where he's greatly admired for his singing abilities. He then moves on to be a part of a very popular Merengue group at the time, The Fire Band El Combo Candela from the city of Nagua where he then is assigned as the main vocalist. In the 90s El Danny is called upon yet again to form part of a new upcoming band of Merengue better known as Dry Land Tierra Seca in the capital of his country, Santo Domingo. There, Mr. Reyes talent is for the first time in his career recognized throughout the whole country of Dominican Republic. The years proceeded and another offer for a vocalist comes his way this time from the Merengue band of Maria Diaz. This offer included going on tour with Maria Diaz throughout the United States. Not long after finishing the tour El Danny becomes part of a new group Without Chains Sin Cadenas, this was formed along with many other gifted Dominican musicians. After a couple of years with Sin Cadenas, Danny in May of 2004 decides to crossover into the genre of Bachata together with his personal friend, musician and musical producer, Dinsley Rodriguez El Desafinao. Shortly after he starts to work on his first album titled Pour Out My Soul Desahoga Mi Alma. While working on the project his artistic name, El Danny is born. Currently, El Danny is being promoted on a global scale through communication mediums in Dominican Republic, Europe and the United States.
